Canon Middleton Addresses Rotary Outpost

The regular meeting of the Rotary Outpost was held Monday evening in the United Church, with a good attendance of local members, A. B. Hogg and A. E. Cross of the Lethbridge Club, and the following from Cardston, which Club paid the Outpost a friendly visit: Pres. S. W. Low, Mayor J. S. Low, Pres. Edw. J. Wood, C. W. Burt B. R. Godfrey, S. O. Low, Warren L. Smith, Ken Allred, D. C. Peterson, Chas. O. Asplund, Canon Middleton, W. G. C. Laidlaw, and Earl Peterson. The Ladies Aid furnished the usual splendid supper, and all present did full justice to the eats, as usual.

A few minutes Community singing with Bill Laidlaw at the piano and S. O. Low conducting was enjoyed by all. Pres. L. L. Pack reported on further study of the Swimming Pool problem and the appointment of Committees which was ratified by the meeting. Pres. S. W. Low of the Cardston Club spoke for the visitors and expressed their pleasure at meeting with the Outpost.

Canon Middleton of the Cardston Club was the speaker of the evening, and gave a very interesting and educational talk. Speaking briefly on the establishment of the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park, and events leading up to it, he paid tribute to the efforts of Congressman Scott Leavitt of Montana and our former member Gen. J. S. Stewart for their efforts in this matter, and the appropriations they had succeeded in obtaining to carry on the work. Correspondence and inquiries had been received from all over America, and many points in Europe for information on the subject and commendation of its realization. The Canon was very modest regarding the part he has played in this international drama but all who are in touch with the project, know that his indefatigable efforts has contributed in a larger measure to its success so far. He also announced a gigantic international celebration in Waterton on July 4th and 5th, at the Prince of Wales Hotel, when the Kennedy Creek-Belly River road will be officially opened, and further details taken up regarding the Peace Park.

Swinging then to International Peace and Goodwill, the subject of the evening the Canon spoke of the peace, friendship and understanding that existed between Canada and the United States, and how thankful we should all be for this. He mentioned the age old hatred and misunderstandings that rankled in the hearts of the people of Europe, and of the number of new countries that were given birth after the World War, each with its customs and duties, and officials for law enforcement. Speaking of the ideals needed in the world, he stated that if the ideals of Rotary could be introduced into the errors and parliaments of the nations, we would need no League of Nations, no Locarno pact, nor any other treaties as everyone person would be interested in the welfare of their friend and neighbor regardless of color, creed or nationality.

Some held the hope that Rotary held the key to the situation. The speaker was not so optimistic feeling that while Rotary was represented in 67 countries with a membership of 165,000, was still too small

Mrs. Amy L. Allen Passes Away

Raymond and district are mourning the passing of Mrs. Amy Leonard Allen, aged 71 years, whose death occurred Thursday morning, following an illness extending over a number of years the past few months of which has been serious, painful and very discouraging.

Deceased is the wife of President Heber S. Allen of the Taylor Stake of Zion who with her husband helped pioneer in both Cardston and Raymond, and one who has played a large and important part in the building up of the country. As her husband has been Stake President now for more than 35 years, she proved a charming hostess and good entertainer in taking care of the company they have always had in their home.

She spent many years of her life in Primary work, serving for 25 years or so as Stake President of this organization, and for many years as well in the Ward organizations. She was a writer of interesting children's stories and was too a very interesting teller of stories and experiences so that thousands of men and women of Southern Alberta are today mourning the passing of a lady who has meant much to their lives through the good influence she had on them in childhood in the Primary organizations when their characters were being formed.

Out of respect to the family, all places of business in Raymond closed Thursday when news of her passing spread throughout the town. Her husband was the founder and is still owner of the Raymond Mercantile Co.

She leaves to mourn her passing besides her husband, a family of six children as follows Mrs. Maralda McKay, Ogden, Utah; Mrs. Viola Wing, Raymond; Mrs. Hazel Snow, Ogden, Utah; Heber F. Allen, Raymond and Bishop of the First Ward; Mrs. Lucille Douglas, Ogden, Utah and John Allen, Raymond.

The sympathy of the town and district go out to the husband and children in the passing of wife and mother.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the State House with the First Ward Bishopric in charge.

War Should if Possible Be Abolished

Essay by Franklin H. Smith

Nothing can be so outrageous, so idiotic and foolish in the supposed-to-be civilized world of today, as war especially among nations which profess to be further advanced along every line of intellectual progress, than nations have ever been in the past.

There are many who uphold war and believe it to be the only successful means of settling a dispute, gaining land or reaching their desired end; but I disagree with them all. War brings into play all the evil, evil and cunning of mankind. It ruins nations, destroys many dear and precious lives; damages others, causes illfeelings between countries which would otherwise be on good terms; and in general upsets the good will of man, and peace of nations which should permeate the world to-day.

There have been a few bright considerate men who have done their utmost to abolish war. There are those who have organized the League of Nations. This is a league which is not to be lightly spoken of. There are many who do not fully realize the power, to authority and infinite importance of this organization. Nothing else could have averted war in these trying times as long as has the League. Here, all the brightest and most intelligent minds in the world are gathered together to discuss the welfare of countries, to settle disputes and to further peace by averting war.

All through the ages, the way of settling differences has been to fight. The early cave man's only way of making a livelihood in short his only means of existing at all was to fight and fight every day of his life; against the beasts, and worst of all against his fellow man. Later when men grouped together in clans, there must needs have been war between them and the strongest won out.

But in the civilized world of today, in the twentieth century in an age of science and discovery, and in a time when there is enough food and land for everybody war is preposterous.

All through the world to-day war threatens every living soul. It looks as if the winding up scene is soon at hand, and that we are headed for a far more terrible and disastrous slaughter than human eye has ever witnessed; and when it comes nobody's life will be safe. Now am I not justified in suggesting that — war should if possible be abolished.

JOINT MEETING SUNDAY EVENING

House Of David Team Here On Monday

Basketball fans are certain of a great evening's entertainment Monday night, March 23, when the Union Jacks meet the famous House of David team in an exhibition game in the Opera House. This should be one of the best games of the winter, as the House of David have played and at times defeated both the New York Harlemites and the Swedes, both these teams having been seen in action against the Union Jacks.

This is the fifth season for the House of David team, during which time they have averaged 125 games per season, and won 90 per cent of their starts. They are all ex college players, and are not only clever ball handlers but great entertainers. They have been gathered up from all over the Western and Central States. Incidentally they have played against and defeated the Victoria Dominoes, formerly Blue Ribbons, who have also played here, so that local fans have a pretty good idea of what kind of Basketball to expect.

The local R.A.A.A. are relying on your support to bring out a good crowd this game. It has cost considerable to bring the team in and then to the Association needs funds for the coming playoffs. To give everyone an opportunity of seeing the game the show at the Capitol will commence Monday evening at 7:15 so that theatre patrons will also be able to see the games at the Opera House, as the preliminary does not begin until 8:30. Be there and show by your presence your appreciation of the team, and the officials of the Athletic Association.

WOULDN'T IT BE NICE

If Raymond citizens and business people had enough love and loyalty for each other to trade about one with another and put our town where it should be? It is really regrettable that our present out of existence has brought us to the point where we trust very few, and sometimes even doubt ourselves. We do not feel that anyone in particular is to blame. It seems to be the spirit of the times. Our fellow man's conditions matter little to us only in so far as he may be able to help us achieve our own selfish ends, or grind our own axe.

We are not desirous of intimating that there are not hundreds of first-class people in our town, the same as in any other town, and we appreciate the fact that Raymond is one of the best towns in Southern Alberta. But, just stand aside if you can, and see how many hundreds of ways here are that we could rendering that service, not only make the town better, and in he or she whom we had helped, but ourselves also would be manifestly better. Every person in town, every business is rendering some worthwhile service, and striving to make a better place out of our town. And yet, to most of us these services are taken for granted, we use them, we seldom voice any appreciation of them, and only once in a while do we reflect on the lasting benefit they are to the town. Every citizen in business and out is welding an influence on someone, it may be your son or daughter, or it may be mine. If that influence is good do we ever take the trouble to thank the benefactor and express a word of appreciation to him; and if the opposite is true, do we ever think of trying to get the individual to change his ways to benefit, instead of deteriorating those who look to him as an example? We heard a story once of a doctor who was the ideal of a small boy. The boy one day watched his ideal smoke a cigar. A few days later, he tried it himself and when questioned about it, said the doctor had smoked, and if it was good for the doctor, it must be good for him.

So we are, all of us. Some one's eyes are upon us. Some one is wondering if we will come through in the pinch. We know the right. Our conscience reminds us continually of some little good, some word we could say, or some encouragement we might make the world better. But we are busy making a living, and we pass up the opportunity. We would have a different town if we would "Scatter Sunshine."

THE PREACHER AND THE PUBLISHER

A preacher, after one of his sermons said: "Let all those who pay their debts rise."

Insanely the whole congregation—men, women, and children rose except one man.

The preacher, after having looked at the large congregation with an air of satisfaction asked the people to sit down, and then said "Now let all those who do not pay their debts arise."

Then a lean, dry looking man with a crestfallen look and shabbily dressed, stood up. "My friend," the minister asked him "Why don't you pay your debts?"

"I publish a journal," replied the man. "The brethren who have stood up are all subscribers and have not—"

"Let us pray" exclaimed the preacher.

THERE ARE A FEW—

There are a few people who take a local paper for years and then refuse to pay for it offering all kinds of excuses, such as, "I asked the publisher to discontinue sending it," or "I ordered the paper for one year and did not ask to have it sent afterwards" or "I didn't subscribe for it." For the benefit of these delinquents it might be stated that if they wished the paper discontinued arrears of subscription should first have been paid. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office or mail box whether in his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for payment. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken or not. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals and having them unpaid is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

EXPERIMENTAL STATION, LETHBRIDGE

WEEKLY LETTER
POTATOES

The potato as an important crop in southern Alberta is not being overlooked in the work on this Station. The potatoes in the pits will all be sorted before spring work commences. Spoiled potatoes will be removed and the small ones separated from the others. The best of the partly spoiled or misshapen potatoes are used for food while the poorer lots are either discarded entirely or fed to the pigs and chickens.

Care is given to the selection of seed, specially to the shape, smoothness and trueness to type of the variety. Each year potatoes are entered for certification in the nation wide potato seed certification programme of the Federal Department of Agriculture. Incidentally this year field lots of both Irish Cobbler and Russet Burbank varieties were certified at this Station. There has been a big demand for certified potato seed and while a quantity was raised all of the Station supply has been sold. A number of other potato growers in southern Alta, however have had their seed certified and the names of these can be secured by writing to this Station.

In saving seed from 1000 to 1500 pounds per acre are reserved for each acre that is to be planted. If medium sized seed is used, which is preferable about 1200 pounds are required.

One interesting feature noticed in our cellar is that all of the small potatoes of the Irish Cobbler variety have been saved for sprouting for early potatoes. This sprouting is accomplished by spreading these small potatoes out in a light attic room where the temperature ranges from 50 degrees to 65 degrees above zero most of the time and never drops to freezing. When placing these potatoes in the attic for sprouting they are either laid on the floor or in flats care being taken to place seed ends up. The Head Gardener advises that the room should be light enough to cause the potato skins to turn a distinct greenish shade & in about three to four weeks sprouts will appear and in another 2 or 3 weeks these will be from one-quarter to one-half an inch long and ready for planting.

These sprouted potatoes are planted whole as the unbroken skin protects the tuber from rotting in the cold soil. They are put in about the middle of April, or as early as the season will permit the planting of hardy vegetables. Sprouted potatoes, of an early variety like Irish Cobbler, planted by the middle of April should be ready for table use under favourable conditions by the first of July.

Farmers do not need to be reminded that there is but a limited market for potatoes especially if a good crop is raised on the prairies. Anyone contemplating planting a large acreage should bear this in mind. It is also evident that only well-selected potatoes should be placed on the market.

YOUR FACE AND YOUR MAKEUP

The mere possession of a lipstick rouge powder and mascara will not alone guarantee you an attractive makeup, even if the shades exactly complement your natural coloring. You must understand the type you are, in order to produce an artistic effect.

To illustrate what I mean, I have chosen seven types of feminine beauty, and I will give you a general idea of the way to apply the makeup of each.

Type: Long face, heavy under lip eyes with upward slant. Makeup should be supremely natural. Place rouge away from the lips and bring it back far to the sides to offset length of face. I would suggest a natural red raspberry lipstick lightly touched to under lip to minimize fullness. Use eyeshadow on outer portion of eyelids to accentuate slight slant for exotic touch.

Type: Delicate and sensitive features, oval of face high forehead over-the-ear hair dress, nothing glaring or bizarre should be used. A peachbloom powder red coral lipstick is suggested. Rouge used in a way to suggest a very natural flush. Would use violet eye shadow.

Type: Round face, rosebud mouth olive-toned skin and very dark hair. Warm effects in makeup and clothes are flattering for this type. Foundation to give a mat finish. Geranium rouge and lipstick. Bring the rouge close to your nose and carry it down in a slightly lengthened line to lengthen the face. Violet-gold iridescent eye shadow to match gold tones in skin. Mauve powder for evening.
